

Assignment Grading Rubric

Factor	4 (Excellent)	3 (Good)	2 (Satisfactory)
--------	---------------	----------	------------------

To the extent possible, it is recommend that students complete the exams as the course proceeds rather

WEEKLY INTERACTION REQUIREMENT

To ensure that all students are involved and participating in the course as the course moves forward, each student enrolled in this course must, at least one during each week, either:

Lecture and reading assignments schedule

Class 1

Monday, January 6, 2014

In this class, we will open our torts discussion with the intentional torts against the person; the various causes of action that case arise when one person undertakes a voluntary action that causes harm to another person. We will discuss the various intentional torts against a

Class 4

Wed, Tuesday, January 15, 2014

We will spend this class discussing the various defenses that exist to intentional torts, such as consent, self

Class 5

Monday, January 20, 2014

Class 11

Monday, February 10, 2014

We will turn our attention to the area of products liability. We will touch on the

Class 12

Class 13

Wednesday, February 19, 2014

We will focus in this class on the

